

The pre-preservice education survey is designed to gather data about your beginning understandings and prior knowledge of the roles of school librarians in school learning communities and of classroom-library collaborative teaching practices. The pre-preservice education survey will take approximately fifteen minutes. Your responses will help guide and improve the effectiveness of your preservice teacher education program. Thank you for your participation.

Definition: Collaboration occurs when educators co-design, co-plan, co-teach, and/or co-assess curriculum-based lessons or units of study.
