Coteaching Strategies (adapted from Friend and Cook, 1996)

One Teaching, One Supporting Center Teaching	One educator is responsible for teaching the lesson while the other observes the lesson, monitors particular students, and provides assistance as needed.
Parallel Teaching	After determining curriculum content for multiple learning centers, each educator takes responsibility for facilitating one or more learning centers. In some centers, students may work independently of adult support.
Alternative Teaching	After collaborative planning, each educator works with half the class to teach the same or similar content. Groups may switch or reconvene as a whole class to share, debrief, and reflect.
Team Teaching	One educator preteaches or reteaches concepts to a small group while the other educator teaches a different lesson to the larger group. (Preteaching vocabulary or other lesson components can be especially valuable for English language learners or special needs students.)
Team Teaching	Educators teach together by assuming different roles during instruction, such as reader or recorder or questioner and responder, modeling partner work, role playing or debating, and more.

Alignment Matrix - Reading Comprehension Strategies and Standards for the 21st-Century Learner – Compiled by Judi Moreillon

Reading Comprehension Strategies	Standards for the 21st-century Learner (AASL)
Background Knowledge	Use prior and background knowledge as context for new learning. (1.1.2) Connect ideas to own interests and previous knowledge and experience. (4.1.5) Recognize when, why, and how to focus efforts in personal learning. (4.4.3)
Sensory Images	Use visualization and imagination to strengthen understanding (comprehension) and enjoyment. (Judi's inference)
Questioning	Develop and refine a range of questions to frame search for new understanding. (1.1.3) Find, evaluate, and select appropriate sources to answer questions. (1.1.4) Display initiative and engagement by posing questions and investigating the answers beyond the collection of superficial facts. (1.2.1)
Predictions and Inferences	Read, view, and listen for information presented in any format (e.g., textual, visual, media, digital) in order to make inferences and gather meaning. (1.1.6)
Main Ideas	Organize knowledge so it is useful. (2.1.2)
Fix-up Options	Monitor gathered information and assess for gaps and weaknesses. (1.4.3)
Synthesizing	Make sense of information gathered from diverse sources by identifying misconceptions, main and supporting ideas, conflicting information, and point of view or bias. (1.1.7)
All Reading Comprehension Strategies	Read, view, and listen for information presented in any format (e.g., textual, visual, media, digital) in order to make inferences and gather meaning. (1.1.6) Use strategies to draw conclusions from information and apply knowledge to curricular areas, real world situations, and further investigations. (2.1.3) Read, view, and listen for pleasure and for personal growth. (4.1.1) Read widely and fluently to make connections with own self, the world, and previous reading. (4.1.2) Respond to literature and creative expressions of ideas in various formats and genres. (4.1.3)
